

The original WinFOREX products have been available from Multimedia TradeWind Limited since 1996 and have been sold to candidates on a world-wide basis. Over the years many examination successes have been recorded - including a large number of distinctions and passes with merit in the ACI Dealing Certificate, ACI Operations Certificate and ACI Diploma.

Multimedia TradeWind Limited an ACI Accredited trainer, continues to upgrade WinFOREX software following ACI's recent revisions to the syllabuses and examinations with further updates expected in mid 2020. WinFOREX now consists of four PC based interactive Single User licence Study aid modules designed specifically with the individual ACI candidate in mind. WinFOREX is however equally appropriate for more general product education and financial market training for FX / Treasury personnel and is also available on a Site licence basis.

Multiple choice question and answer databases along with all accompanying texts have been updated to cover the revised ACI Dealing Certificate and ACI Operations Certificate (both September 2017), ACI FX Global Code Certificate (July 2019), ACI Diploma (September 2017) and ACI Diploma New Version (December 2019) syllabuses.

All modules feature extensive databases of ACI and ACI-style multiple choice questions and the ACI Dealing Certificate and ACI Operations Certificate modules are complemented by their own comprehensive accompanying text book (approaching 400 pages of A4 for the ACI Dealing Certificate syllabus). These documents are available as Adobe *.pdf files for on-screen viewing. The A4 accompanying pdf text for the ACI Diploma is also able to be printed locally at the candidate's option.

With the publication of the ACI FX Global Code Certificate in 2019 the company has also launched a Module targeted specifically at this syllabus and examination which differs from other modules in that it follows the new 3 multiple-choice answer question format of the new examination and is accompanied by a printable pdf of the BIS FX Global Code pdf.

Even a candidate who is actively involved in the day to day financial markets needs a certain amount of revision and assistance in exam techniques to ensure he/she is fully prepared for the examination - where WinFOREX is so useful. The interactive training software features dynamic on-screen feedback for all multiple-choice questions and debriefing reports, either on-screen or printable - dependant on licence purchased, have many uses including as an aid to dealer selection and assessment.

The PC based approach replicating the electronic delivery format of the public examinations makes WinFOREX UNIQUE and even more relevant to a candidate's training and revision requirements giving him/her the ability to "hone" question management techniques and maximise use of time in the examination proper.

In all Single User licence modules of WinFOREX interactive question libraries (over 1,850 multiple choice questions available in Module DC) permit the user to test his/her overall understanding of the syllabus by, on each access, selecting any number of questions at random, on a topic by topic basis or by creating a full "Mock" (trial) examination.

The software brings the candidate up to speed in all aspects of the syllabuses and the differing examination techniques required for the ACI Dealing Certificate (Module DC), ACI Operations Certificate (Module OPS) and ACI FX Global Code Certificate (Module FXGC) featuring Mock examinations with correct topic by topic weighting of 70 screen-based interactive multiple-choice questions and marking methodologies dependant on the individual examination formats (2 hours). Using this random generation Mock examination feature, a completely different set of questions generated topic by topic (correctly weighted and marked) can be created on each access. The user's answers can then be reviewed question by question on-screen for post examination de-briefing.

WinFOREX Module DIP 2020 software is appropriate as a training and revision aid for both formats of the examination in 2020 ACI Diploma (September 2017) and ACI Diploma New Version (December 2019). In Module DIP the Mock examination replicates the ACI Diploma (September 2017) public examination format and marking methodology, consisting of 107 multiple choice questions in 9 syllabus topic baskets - 69 multiple choice theory questions worth 1 mark each and 38 multiple choice calculation questions worth 2 marks each. Whilst covering the same subject matter and issues, the syllabus and examination format for the ACI Diploma New Version (December 2019) has been simplified to 5 topic headings and 100 multiple choice examination questions (each worth 1 mark). Both formats are to be completed in 3 hours. To pass any examination, in addition to a 60% overall pass mark, candidates must attain a minimum of 50% across each topic basket of the appropriate syllabus and examination format.

The trainee's preferred system access is selected via the test selection screen (figure 2 - ACI Dealing Certificate).

Multiple choice examination questions, as delivered in the public examination, are displayed as selected (figure 3 Module DC) with the candidate having the option to answer or pass (for later review) on any question. When an answer has been selected and confirmed the system will respond - if correct... a smiley face and congratulations, if incorrect... a sad face with dynamic on-screen feedback including the correct answer available on selection of the button <Click for correct answer>. A Brief explanation of the correct answer is also displayed in the lower blue section of the screen.

The WinFOREX Single User licence product also incorporates an accompanying text invoked from the main test screen. Alternatively, published textbooks can be purchased with the software for the ACI Dealing Certificate and ACI Operations Certificate.

If the candidate has selected ACI EXAM on the initial test selection screen, rather than instant on-screen feed-back after each question, on completion of the test he/she is given a breakdown of topic by topic performance (figure 4 Module DC <ACI EXAM> – following the correct ACI marking methodology) and is then offered the opportunity to review questions attempted one by one on screen (with dynamic feedback).

The WinFOREX Single User licence product also incorporates an Excel based spreadsheet utility (figure 5) including all ACI formulae (hard copy available to candidates during the examination) which can be invoked from the main test screen for use by candidates on an interactive basis to assist understanding of data elements required to complete syllabus calculations - vital preparation and revision for the calculation question baskets in the examinations.
